

The earth whispers softly through the trees,
As waves crash against the night sky.
The stars rise above the horizon,
Casting a gentle glow upon the shore.
In the distance, a soothing melody fills the air,
As the moon shines brightly against the canopy of stars.
Tranquility prevails underneath,
A sense of peace that creates a sound.